New and Important Invention,—The Model of a TRAVELING BRIDUE, intended to transport a train of cars, as piers, ever rivers, without obstracting navigation, and independent of iee or freebets has just been completed by the patenter. Mr. FRYDERIC FIELD, and may be seen at No. 15 Laight-is. It obviates completely the drager and isconvenience from draw bridges, and promises to be of innateriable advantage to Railroad Companies in the matter of commy and to the traveling community in the matter of commy and to the traveling community in the matter of safety. All who have examined the model concur in the opinion that the inventor complies one of the great wants of this "so-absod" age. There may be fire bundred places in the United States where you such a method of crossing streams is a decideratum.

The undersigned take pleasure in announcing that they will hortly issue the above brilliant and powerfully-written Ameriexp Romacce, which they feel justified in believing is destined to have a circulation and an influence throughout this country unparalleled in the his ory of American authorship.

mparalleled in the his ory of American authorship.

The American Republic is now deeply stirred by one all-pervading sentiment. It is the broadest, the deepest, and the intensest feeling, which has existed in this country since the great struggle for Independence. How long the fervor of this sentiment may last, or what may be its results, it is not for us to determine; but it can hardly be denied that the times are ripe for a great book, which shall so forth to every part of the country, embodying the principles, and breathing the spirit that is eweepig all party lines away, and rolling the ware of particule fire from ocean to ocean. The work has been prepared exfire from ocean to ocean. The work has been prepared expressly to meet the times, and it will go forth with the same tion and the bearty approval of every man in that wast army ϕ_f Jesuits in America, in our homes, in society, in politics, and in Government. The corrupting and degrading intrigues of un-principled political demegraces, of all parties, are brought into full view, under the intolerable blaze of light; while the artistic developments of the plot impart to the work the most br tic developments of the plot impart to the work the most cri-liant characteristics of the finest romances. It has been sub-jected to the severest and most enlightened criticism; and several of our most accomplished scholars, who have read the membeript with care, have all longured in the opinion that it is the most dramatic and powerful movel that has been written in this country—that it must have an almost unprecedented circulation, simply upon its merits as a highly wrought work of belightening the mird, and stirring the hearts of a great and a free people, they do not hesitate to predict for it such a circu-lation as no other American book has had.

No pains or expense have been spared in bringing the No pains of expense have been spared in oringing ine enter-prise to perfection. The work has been in preparation for as-more than a year, and we pay a very high price as copyright. It will be printed on superior paper, and illustrated by our best critics, and elegantly bound in embossed cloth, it will appear na style superior to that of any American book of the same price that has yet appeared. We are making the most liberal arrangements in advertising and distributing it among the press and also in forwarding gratuit, us copies to the principal Country.

A WORK FOR THE LADIES.

THE

LADIES' GUIDE TO CROCHET.

BY MRS ANN S. STEVENS.

Copiously illustrated with original and very choice Designs in Crochet, Ac., printed in colors, separate from the letter-prese, on tinted paper. Also, with numerous wood cuts printed with the letter-prese, explanatory of terms, Ac. Oblong, pp. 117.

beautifully bound in extra cloth, gill. Price 75 cents.

This is by far the best work on the subject of Crochet yet published. There are plenty of other books containing Crochet patterns, but the difficulty is, they do not have the necessary instructions how to' work them, and are, thereforeuseless. This work, however, supplies this much felt and necessary instructions now work men, and are, acceptance where the much felt and glaring deficiency, and has the terms in Crochet so clearly explained that any Crochet pattern, however difficult, may be worked with ease.
